

Lupinus - a lovely, cabled cardigan

Design: Signe Strømgaard

My first knitting love is cables. I never grow tired of playing with the many variations of cables, when creating a new design. It becomes an even more special thing when the yarn I am working with is perfect for cables. Pernilla is exactly that - perfect.

Short rows

When you turn in the middle of a row to make a short row, it is important to do something to avoid ending up with a hole at the turning point. The most common method is to wrap the working yarn around the next stitch on the needle before turning the work as follows: Hold the yarn to the front of the work, slip the next stitch from left to right hand needle, bring the yarn to the back of the work and slip the stitch back on the left needle. This creates a loop around the next stitch, which will eliminate the hole between the last knit and the first unknit stitch. Now turn the work and continue according to your pattern.

When working the stitch with the loop around it, lift the loop up and over the stitch it belongs to, then work the stitch and the loop together as if it were one stitch.
